Q033 (Q033_) STATEMENT SOCIAL SECURITY

Which statement do you think is most accurate. Social Security payroll taxes are used to pay benefits now to current retirees. Social Security payroll taxes are put into an account for your Social Security benefits when you retire.

1. Social Security payroll taxes are used to pay benefits for current retirees
2. Social Security payroll taxes are put into an account for my retirement

Q034 (Q034_) INVEST PART OF SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES

Some argue that people should be allowed to invest part of their Social Security taxes into stocks and bonds held in an account that would provide benefits based on the value of the assets in the account at the time they retire. Others argue that Social Security should continue to pay retirement benefits based only on peoples' earnings histories.

1. Social Security should be changed to allow individual accounts
2. Social Security should continue to pay benefits based on earnings histories
