| A prepaid card is a card that has money stored or loaded onto it. It is also often known as a
| stored value card or a gift card. Most prepaid cards have a dollar value that can be used to make
| payments, which are deducted from the value or valid for use over time, such as a monthly pass.
| Some prepaid cards can be reloaded with additional dollar value using other payment instruments.
| We will ask you about 4 types of prepaid cards: Government issued cards are used by federal,
| state or local governments to distribute benefits to citizens. Examples include Direct Express and
| Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT). Employer issued cards are given to employees for | compensation instead of cash, checks, or direct deposit. Examples include payroll cards (wages or
| salary), incentive cards (bonuses or awards), and benefit cards (e.g. FSA, HSA, HRA). General
| purpose cards can be used anywhere debit or credit cards are accepted and almost always have a
| logo from Visa, MasterCard, American Express, or Discover. Specific purpose prepaid cards can
