Q1_intro Q1Intro

There will be a general election in your state in November, including an election for the member of the US House of Representatives from your district[FL_Q1senate], plus other state and local offices.[FL_Q1senate]special What is the percent chance that you will vote for the following [FL_Q1office] in the upcoming election? The percent chance can be thought of as the number of chances out of 100. You can use any number between 0 and 100. For example, numbers like 2 and 5 percent may be 'almost no chance', 20 percent or so may mean 'not much chance', a 45 or 55 percent chance may be a 'pretty even chance', 80 percent or so may mean a 'very good chance', and 95 or 98 percent chance may be 'almost certain'.

Q8 Government's role in reducing the income differences

Some people think that the government in Washington ought to reduce the income differences between the rich and the poor, perhaps by raising taxes of wealthy families or by giving income assistance to the poor. Others think that the government should not concern itself with reducing this income difference between the rich and the poor. Here is a scale from 1 to 7. Think of a score of 1 as meaning that the government ought to reduce the income differences between rich and poor, and a score of 7 meaning that the government should not concern itself with reducing income differences.

What score between 1 and 7 comes closest to the way you feel?

- 1 Government ought to reduce the income differences
- 2 2
- 3 3
- 4 4
- 5 5
- 6 6
- 7 Government should not concern itself with income differences
